

Press Release.

Chhandam are proud to present “EKOTA” – a call for unity and peace.

“EKOTA” explores the journey from the present unrest to the ultimate haven of unity and peace. “So powerful is the light of Unity, that it will illuminate the whole Earth”.

Raka Mukhopadhyay and her young British born troupe have choreographed this unique composition using a variety of Indian dance styles to portray the transition of moods and feelings.

Hans Vermeesch, Shubhankar Chatterjee and Rajkumar Misra used both Eastern and Western musical composition for “EKOTA”.

The premiere of Chhandam's last project, ‘Taranga’ was held at the Queen Elizabeth Hall, London, and they have performed nationally and internationally. Previous performances were highly acclaimed for their original choreography and their high standards of presentation.

“EKOTA” is being performed on 1st July 2006 at The Shaw Theatre, 100 – 110 Euston Road, London NW1 2AJ. The programme starts at 7.15pm.

Tickets are £15.00 or £12.00      Box Office: 0870 033 2600
